Audit / Integrity and Compliance Leaders

Alicia Capps
Vice President, Chief Audit Officer

Alicia Capps joined SCL Health in 2013, and began serving as the Vice President and Chief Audit Officer of SCL Health in March 2017. She previously served as the Director of Internal Audit. She ensures that the internal audit strategies are aligned with SCL Health’s strategies and enterprise risks, and support the organization’s value of Integrity, doing the right thing with openness and pride.

Since joining SCL Health in 2013, Capps helped move the internal audit function from CHAN Healthcare to an internal department, and she helped drive the Business Systems Optimization collaborative. Capps holds an accounting degree from Louisiana State University and is both a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and Certified Internal Auditor (CIA). She also serves on the board of directors for the Association of Healthcare Internal Auditors.

Joanne Davidson
Vice President, Chief Integrity and Compliance Officer

Joanne Davidson joined SCL Health in August, 2012, as Vice President and Chief Integrity and Compliance Officer. She leads the organization’s Integrity & Compliance Program and is responsible for coordinating with the Legal team to establish standards and policies pertaining to regulatory requirements to help ensure legal, ethical and proper conduct. Davidson makes sure these standards are communicated and institutionalized across the organization and monitors the company’s compliance with these standards and policies.

Davidson has worked in healthcare compliance since 1998. Prior to joining SCL Health, she worked as the Division Ethics and Compliance Officer and as Operations Counsel for the Continental Division of HCA. Davidson earned her undergraduate degree from the University of Colorado and her law degree from the University of Denver. She is a member of the American Health Lawyers Association and the Health Care Compliance Association.

Updated 3-7-17