

Mark Korth

Executive Vice President, Chief Operating Officer of Hospital Operations

Mark Korth joined SCL Health as Executive Vice President, Chief Operating Officer of Hospital Operations in June 2019. In this role, Mark has direct responsibility for hospital operational performance, nursing, information technology, service line development and transformation, as well as the development and implementation of integrated strategic initiatives working with strategy and business development and clinical, physician and other system leaders to promote overall system alignment, support growth initiatives and advance patient care.

Prior to joining SCL Health, Mark worked with Dignity Health for nearly 10 years, progressively expanding his roles from Hospital President, to Service Area President and spending the last three years as the system Chief Transformation Officer, developing a transformation structure that achieved approximately $700M in its first two years by implementing changes in areas such as Physician Enterprise, Revenue Cycle, Labor Management, Supply Chain, Pharmacy, Care Coordination, and Clinical Care.

Highlights from his work leading the North State Service area include outstanding financial performance; improved employee engagement scores; implementation of a vibrant Clinical Integrated network and significant strides in population management; and expanding physician models and recruitment throughout northern California. Earlier in his career, Mark worked with Tenet Health as a Hospital President and Chief Operation Officer for nine years and with Sutter Health leading physician integration.

Mark is a fellow with the American College of Healthcare Executives and holds a Masters of Business Administration degree as well as a Masters of Healthcare Administration degree--both from the University of Minnesota.

Mark is married with four daughters and one son-in-law. Mark and his family enjoy outdoor activities and are excited about living in Colorado.
