Steven Chyung,
Senior Vice President, Supply Chain and Real Estate

Steve Chyung joined SCL Health in November 2011, and serves as Senior Vice President, Supply Chain and Real Estate. He drives productivity programs that are a critical component of SCL Health’s financial strength. His role includes directing supply chain activities across our system and working to improve the quality and service levels of our existing services and materials. In addition, he oversees our system-wide real estate portfolio and works with care site leadership to help them manage and optimize their portfolios.

Previously, Chyung held several leadership positions with Novartis, both in Europe and the U.S. Part of his responsibilities included establishing global Centers of Excellence in Europe, Asia and Latin America. He also held the position of Vice President of Strategic Sourcing for Novartis Pharmaceuticals and managed the procurement function for North America. Prior to Novartis, Chyung worked with A.T. Kearney Management Consultants on a wide variety of operational and strategic initiatives for Global 1000 companies.

Chyung earned a master’s degree in business administration with a concentration in finance and management policy from the Kellogg Graduate School of Management at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois, and his bachelor’s degree in chemical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley.
