Dr. Alizadeh considers herself a Colorado native after moving from New Jersey in middle school. She earned an undergraduate degree in Microbiology as well as a Master’s degree in Toxicology from Colorado State University. She went on to attend medical school at Rocky Vista University College of Osteopathic Medicine in Parker, Colorado. Following her education, she was fortunate enough to remain in Denver to complete an Obstetrics and Gynecology residency at Saint Joseph Hospital. Dr. Alizadeh is thrilled to continue with SCL Health and be a part of Superior Ob-Gyn.

“One of the most important parts of my job is creating a trusting physician-patient relationship. I strive to educate my patients using evidence-based medicine, provide them with all the possible options, and together, formulate a plan of care that best suits them. I feel extremely privileged to be a part of this community and highly value the opportunity to work together to meet the women’s healthcare needs of my future patients!”

Dr. Alizadeh’s clinical interests include infertility, routine and complex obstetrical care, and minimally invasive gynecologic surgery. When not working, Dr. Alizadeh enjoys spending time with her husband and children. She enjoys trying out new cuisines, yoga, travel, and gardening.
